INTRODUCTION

Welcome to House of MarkTech—where your search for diverse digital solutions ends! While most agencies specialise in just one area, forcing you to juggle multiple partners, we bring everything under one roof. From cutting-edge marketing strategies to seamless tech solutions, and creative content production, we've got it all.

No need to hop from agency to agency—House of MarkTech is your one-stop destination for every digital need. We simplify your journey, so you can focus on what matters most: growing your business.

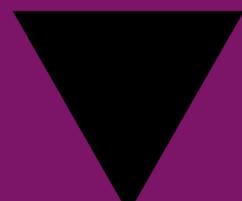

Sid & Kriti are the Founders of House of MarkTech who reside in New Delhi, India.

From a very young age they both had the same vision, goal and purpose which is to solve Earth's problems.

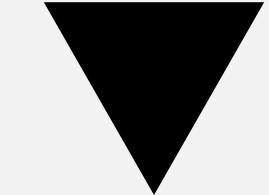

They both started their own businesses during which they faced a lot of problems related to their website and content production requirements, be it delay in delivery of the service, bad customer support, low quality of work when they decided to transform this industry by giving an absolute best in class handoff service.
